

Psalm
131

My heart is not proud, O Lord, my eyes are not haughty; I do not concern myself with great matters or things too wonderful for me. But I have stilled and quieted my soul; like a weaned child with its mother, like a weaned child is my soul within me. O Israel, put your hope in the Lord both now and forevermore.

The greatest danger to my discipleship is getting distracted by the things in life that don't really matter.

by PRUNING Divine life can flow freely into the branches of my life, enabling me to bear the fruit that matters.
Psalm 131 is a maintenance song Above all else, it prunes: Our unruly ambitions.
"Lord, I have given up my pride and turned away from my arrogance."/TEV

Discipleship Principle: To keep me from assuming God's job, I must intentionally prune out unruly ambition.
At the heart of ambition is pride. Pride is at the core of sin. Sin fosters this issue of godship in my life.
Godship is taking the responsibility for running my life and achieving my desired outcomes away from God and assuming that role myself.

Recognizing Godship

- I stress over matters I can't control
- I manipulate to get my plans fulfilled

Recognizing Godship

- I make plans, then ask for God's blessing
- I base decisions on my happiness rather than God's holiness

Recognizing Godship

- I pray as a last resort, not as a first response
- I can't afford to give time, energy or money to God's work

Recognizing Godship I put hope for security and happiness in other

 I put hope for security and happiness in other things at the expense of simple trust and obedience to God

"God, I'm not trying to rule the roost; I don't want to be king of the mountain. I haven't meddled where I have no business or fantasized grandiose plans."

pruning unruly ambition will require me to cultivate contentment.

"I'm keeping my feet on the ground and cultivating a quiet heart."

VERSE 2 / MESSAGE

Mature discipleship requires that I quit grabbing at God out of desperation and grow into a faith that responds to him out of trust.
